What Time Proves.
This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptom of the approach of the grim demon. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sickness, headache, dyspepsia, and indigestion, it begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. We will send a sample box of these pills free, or a full box on receipt of 25 cents. Sold by all druggists for 25 cents per box, or address

A Thrilling Story.

A good story is told of a stuttering plebe at Ann Arbor who was accosted by an upper class man and ordered to tell him a story and to "tell it quick." The plebe started in as rapidly as his excited state of mind would permit about as follows: "I-I-I-I-I was w-w-walking down the road a-a-a I-I-I little while ago—n-n-n I met met met n-upper class man, n-n-n; he w-w-w was dandy f-f-fellow, n-n-n he slapped me on the b-b-back an' said, 'Hello, old man!' n-n-n I was s-s-so excited an' happy I-I-I fell dead."

Impudent Masculine Assumption.
Mr. Ferguson—Whose character were you and Mrs. Tarrup discussing when I came in?

Mrs. Ferguson—What made you think we were discussing anybody's character?

Mr. Ferguson—I noticed you were busily talking—that's all—Exchange.

Taking and Giving.
"You can't," said the philosopher,
"take from a thing without making it less."

"Oh, I don't know," the fool replied.
"Have you ever tried taking a light from one candle with another?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Natural Desire.

Smith—I wonder what Brown intends to do with all the money he got for those historical novels he wrote.

Jones—He intends to travel. He feels that he ought to visit some of the places he wrote about just to see what they are like.—Life.

Malayan Tree Dwellers.

The Sakais, or tree dwellers, of the Malay peninsula build their houses in forked trees a dozen feet above ground and reach them by means of bamboo ladders, which they draw up when safely housed out of harm's way. The house itself is a rude kind of shack, made of bamboo, and the flooring is lashed together piece by piece and bound securely to the tree limbs by rattan.

These curious people are rather small and lighter in complexion than the Ma-lays, though much uglier. They have no form of religion at all—not even idols—no written language and speak a corrupt form of Malay.

Careless.

"It was careless of me to say that I admired Bacon," remarked the young woman with glasses.

"Did you offend some Shakespearean student?"

"No. It was a Chicago pork packer.
He frigiously remarked that he didn't care to talk shop."—Washington Star.

Growth of the Human Heart.

A scientific analysis of the growth of the human heart demonstrates the fact that the increase is greatest and most rapid during the first and second years of life, its bulk at the end of the second year being exactly double what it originally was. Between the second and seventh years it is again doubled in size. A slower rate of growth then sets in and continues during the period of maturity of other portions of the body. After the fifteenth year up to the fiftieth the annual growth of the heart is about .061 of a cubic inch, the increase ceasing about the fiftieth year.

The Memory of Ants.

A remarkable fact in the physiology of ants is their memory. The number of ants that go to make a nest is enormous, yet they are all personally known to each other and are able to recognize members of their own community after a prolonged absence. Sir John Lubbock kept one of these remarkably intelligent insects from its home for a year. On its return the relatives from whom it had been so cruelly separated recognized their wanderer and welcomed it back, while an ant introduced from another nest was most inhospitably treated, even murdered and thrown out.

Confidential.

A Scotsman was on his deathbed, and his friends persuaded him to forgive a neighbor with whom he had had a standing feud for some years.

The neighbor came to the dying man's bedside.

After they had shaken hands and made peace the Scotsman exclaimed:
"If I get better, Donald, remember to tell your wife to wash."

She settled fit.

"Sir," began the youth, "I have come to ask for your daughter's hand in."

"No, sir," snorted her father. "You can't have her! What could possibly have prompted you to ask?"

"Why—she did, sir!"

"Oh, that's different! Also, that settles it!"—Philadelphia Press.

Anxious.

Alice—How did you feel while Fred was proposing to you?

Mildred—Two or three times I felt like supplying the words I knew he was groping for, but of course that wouldn't have been the thing to do at all.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

The life of food is the fat within it—the more fat the more real benefit from the food; that is why cod liver oil is a powerful builder of flesh.

Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil solves the problem of how to take cod liver oil. That is one reason why doctors have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion for all wasting diseases, coughs, colds and bronchitis for almost thirty years.

One of the inducements offered in order to substitute something else for Scott's Emulsion is the matter of cost. You save a few cents at the expense of your health.
Scott's Emulsion costs more because it does more and does it better than the substitutes.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

WANTS THE WHOLE TURKEY.

The Call of Tuesday made the announcement that there were soon to be a distribution of federal loaves and fishes for the Pacific Coast. Rumors from Washington were to the effect that members of the California Congressional delegation have sounded their federal associates in the Senate and House and are now quite sure that Congress will establish another judicial district in this State to be known as the United States Circuit Court—Eastern District of California. The new district will be composed of the counties of Del Norte, Humboldt, Siskiyou, Trinity, Tehama, Shasta, Modoc, Lassen, Plumas, Sierra, Nevada, Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Alpine, Mono, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Mendocino, Glenn, Colusa, Butte, Sutter, Yuba, Sacramento, Yolo, Lake, Napa, Sonoma, Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa and Solano.

The salary of the Judge of the new district will doubtless be fixed at $6000 per annum, the same as John J. de Haven, District Judge of the Northern District of California, receives. It is gossip in political camps that Fred S. Stratton will resign from the office of Collector of the Port of San Francisco to accept the Judgeship of the new district. The salary attaching to the office of Collector of Customs of this port is $7,000 per annum, or $1000 a year more than a Federal District Judge receives, but the fact is always considered that a Federal Judge holds for life, whereas the ordinary term of a Federal officer in other departments is only four years. Rumor goes that George Hutton or W. B. Hamilton will be appointed to succeed Collector Stratton—all of whom are of Alameda County.

The establishment of another Judicial District would mean another United States Marshal, a United States District Attorney, several assistant attorneys and a number of deputy marshals. Rumor has it that Alameda county will ask for all these choice plums and there is scarcely any doubt but that she will get them, for it now has about three-fourth of the Federal patronage besides having nearly all the State patronage—a United States Senator and a Governor; and it would be just as well to complete her happiness by letting her have the forthcoming loaves and fishes. It would seem that the whole of the Republican party of California is confined to Alameda county, that there is no members of that grand old organization outside the confines of that bailiwick over the bay. But that is not all, she is now putting forth her best efforts in the direction to secure the United States Senatorship for Victor H. Metcalf, the Congressman from Alameda county. Then she would have the both Senators. The Call in an effort to excuse this seemingly unmitigated gall offers the excuse that a precedent was established for this when San Mateo, a much smaller county than Alameda, was the dwelling place for two United States Senators, Charles N. Felton and Leland Stanford. Now this is all bosh. While it is true Senator Felton is and was a resident of this county, yet Senator Stanford never was, but was always a dweller in Santa Clara county. We know of no time in the history of the State when two United States Senators were elected from the same county, but if there is a chance for Alameda to establish the precedent, she can be depended upon to do it.

It does seem to us that it would be wisdom for the powers that be who have the giving out of places that they would distribute them through the State in order to strengthen the party and not to give all the patronage to one county. The rank and file of the party would like to be recognized occasionally at least, and not have Alameda always swallow the patronage with hoggish mein.

Silence is often more exasperating than the most violent opposition.

The sorriest cuss on earth is the cuss who will sit around and cuss his own town. A person living astride the north pole should call it home, and should be ready to boost it up. If he couldn't say anything good about it he should say that his ice bill did not "come high". No man should live in a town he had to cuss—not while the world is as big as it is now.

History informs us that the original reason why women first had to go veiled in the Orient was that if they went about with uncovered faces their beauty would lead men astray. Well, then, women in those days must have been far more beautiful than they are now, that's all.

Eastern people who are spending their first winter in San Mateo county, are, no doubt, very agreeably surprised at our Christmas weather. Instead of snow storms, we are having bright sunshine.

A friendly bequest of $5,000 to Andrew Carnegie reminds him that there are cases in which aying poor is a difficult matter. But, ordinarily, it is feasible.

Christmas is a beautiful institution, but any movement to have it come every six months will meet the adamant resistance of the man behind the purse.

Wisconsin's ex-Governor ecstatically hails the lowly cow as "the greater foster-mother of the human race." The claims of milkman and pump he ignores.

An isthmian canal will more than double the strength of the navy of the United States for rapid concentration in the two greatest oceans.

Uncle Sam wants for use in the next fiscal year $624,562,146.07. What he wants the seven cents for is not explicitly stated.

The turkey is a soaring bird these days, and the higher he goes the thinner he gets.

Somebody who has been computing the quantity of liquids consumed by the American people within a twelve-months has found that we drank last year enough tea, coffee, wine, beer, liquors and other beverages to cover an area of land two miles square to a depth of ten feet—a lake large enough, it was suggested, to float several navies of the size of our own. The amount of alcoholic beverages alone which were necessary to satisfy the national thirst during this period would fill a canal 100 miles long, 100 feet wide and 10 feet deep.

Always watch your alderman. By that means you may get next and force him to divide.

OCEAN LINERS IN PORT.

The Work That is Done by the Crew

That is the question which the captain of a liner, and equally, of course, his responsibility for her, extend only over the time when she is crossing the sea. Practically the responsibility ceases when she approaches land on either side, for the pilot assumes charge of her navigation as soon as he comes aboard. When the ship arrives at her pier, or as soon as she is clear, as she is within hailing distance, the captain is no longer in control. She is then under the authority of the marine superintendent, who is in command of the piers and tugs and harbor front equipment of the line and who takes charge of the docking of all vessels.

To bring a giant liner to rest at her pier is a delicate operation. The flow of the tide, the headway imparted by her engines before they stop, the depth of the water, must all be taken into consideration, for the quarters are narrow, and if she were to ram the pier it would mean a bad smashup. But with the skill of long experience the superintendent, by voice and hand, our tools the great vessel perfectly, and with tugs helping her and cables drawing her she glides into her resting place as quietly and easily as a tired child slips beneath the covers at night.

Practically, from the moment when the liner is made fast she is turned over to the crew that never sails. Her officers remain on duty, and their work is as arduous and almost as incessant in port as at sea. But the law requires that the crew of each vessel shall be paid off and discharged at the end of every voyage. In the case of the liner they are again signed immediately, but during the period while the vessel lies in port they are not officially connected with her, and the work which naturally would fall to their lot is performed by the port crew. General Wood disagrees with the fool friends who have been insisting that the charges against him should not be investigated thoroughly. He is wise enough to know that he cannot afford to rest under such imputations even though confirmed as Major-General in the army, and he has the manliness to ask that the charges be given full hearing. It is to his credit that he is so ready to meet his accusers, and his demand for a thorough inquiry will earn him the good opinion of many who have not regarded his appointment favorably. If he can meet these personal charges squarely and refute them, the objections to his confirmation will largely disappear.

Died in South San Francisco.
Deputy Coroner E. E. Cunningham of the First township held an inquest in South San Francisco Wednesday over the remains of Paolo Lazzereschi, who died suddenly at 4:15 that morning.
The deceased went to bed the night before in apparently good health. In the early morning his son, who slept in the same room, heard him get up. Thinking that all might not be right, he spoke to him, and receiving no answer, jumped up and caught his father just as he fell dead. Mr. Lazzereschi was a native of Italy, aged 58 years. He had been a resident of the county 19 months. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

San Mateo County Savings Bank.
The San Mateo County Savings Bank is rapidly getting things into shape in order to handle the increased deposits of which they are assured. In conversation with Cashier Behrens, we learn that he hopes to be able to open the savings department for business not later than the 15th inst., but if the books, which must necessarily be made to order, are not finished, business will be opened as soon thereafter as possible.

A savings bank is what Redwood has needed for a long time and the project deserves the most liberal co-operation of all our citizens. The directors and officers are all men who have earned the confidence of the people and can be trusted to invest deposits to the best possible advantage.

NEW AIR SHIP'S TRIAL TRIP.

Redwood City May Soon Witness Aerial Navigation.

This County Will Be the Scene of the Trial Trip—Description of Mechanical Construction.

At last the time has come for the perfect fulfillment of the world's dream since the dawn of human invention—the realization of man's ambition to fly.

And the best part of this most startling announcement is the fact that the flying is to be done right here at home.

The Stanley airship, now nearing completion in San Francisco, will shortly make the initial voyage and trial trip through San Mateo and Santa Clara counties to San Jose. The ship will be in charge of Mr. Edward Murphy, the most expert and experienced engineer on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Murphy has been with the Union Iron Works for years and took out the warships Oregon and Farragut on their trial trips. He stated in an interview recently that he would volunteer to take the Stanley airship from the shipyards at San Francisco to San Jose and back inside of an hour. He aims to pass over all the towns on this side of the bay.

This air is bound to be successfully navigated is no longer denied by scientific men, who have given thought and study to this important subject. Von Zeppelin's great ship and Santos Dum-ont's latest success and its triumphant flight and aerial evolutions have demonstrated beyond a doubt that ships of the air will be as common as automobiles in the very near future.

But, the most startling fact is that the local ship aims to make the European wonders look like toys. Dumont's ship is a cylindrical inflated balloon with a frame car attached about 20 feet below.
It is moved by a single propeller. The car will not hold more than two men.
The Stanley type of airship is being built to carry thirty passengers and many hundred pounds of baggage.

It is cylindrical in shape, pointed at both ends, and built of aluminum. The body is 228 feet from tip to tip and has a diameter of 56 feet. The ship is divided longitudinally by a partition running the full length of the ship 12 feet above the keel. The lower part will contain the motive power, machinery, passengers, freight, mails and whatever is to be carried. The upper part is to be divided into six compartments which are to contain hydrogen gas to elevate the ship. The lifting capacity of the gas has been measured to be 21,000 pounds. The weight of the ship, including machinery, is 13,000 pounds.
Fitted with 50-horse power driving engines, and as the ship is such as to offer the least resistance in being driven through the air, a maximum speed of 130 miles an hour will be obtained (minimum 70 miles.)

The propellers, placed as they are at the apex of each cone, being in a direct center, will have a much greater power in driving the ship backward and forward through the air than if placed on the sides of the airship, or to a suspended car below, as is the case with all other airships in existence. Everything will be inside the cylinder, and there is no doubt that the ship will make all gates look tame. A rudder placed under each cone will guide the ship to right or left.

A series of side planes or side rudders placed along the sides will elevate the ship to a higher altitude in going forward than the gas has lifted it; for instance, when passing over a mountain range. A special feature in connection with the use to be made of the "side planes" is the ability of the vessel to rise in going forward, and still maintain a horizontal position. The main feature, however, of the invention is the top propellers, which will control the ship in rising and force it down, without letting out the gas, to make a landing at any time and place desired.

There can be no question as to the result of the combination of forces used in this airship, nor any uncertainty as to the result, for there is not a principle involved but what has been tried and tested. The field for the usefulness of such a ship is large and various. It is the intention of Mr. Stanley, the inventor, to sell the military rights to the United States Government, and as for a means of fast commercial travel the airship will mark a new era. A little run to New York will take less than thirteen hours, and the traveling facilities will rival the accommodations of the finest ocean liner. One glimpse of the flying ship as she hums over this county should prove beyond a doubt to the learned mechanical engineer, as well as the casual observer, that the Stanley type of airship will startle the world.

GERALD C. HALEY.

Redwood Is Booming.
Redwood City has the brightest outlook for the new year of any year in its history. Everything is on the boom.

The fine new $50,000 high school is nearly completed. The $140,000 court house is already begun. New buildings are being built. A new savings bank has been started in connection with the Bank of San Mateo county, and it is an assured fact that another savings bank will be launched in a very short time and a fine new building will in all probabilities be built to accommodate it.

It is rumored that the Frank Tanning Company will double the size of its plant. All of the industries of the town are running on full time. There is no sickness to speak of and all in all the outlook is very bright. No time was ever more propitious for a good new year. May it come to all of us and may we pass it along to our neighbors.

As a rule the orator who uses the biggest words has the least to say.

WELCOMED THE NEW YEAR.

Eagles Make Merry at the Grand Altar of the Local Arts.

The Alhambra was filled with the largest, the gayest and most enthusiastic crowd on New Year's eve that has ever been seen on any such occasion in this town. The affair was arranged by the local arts of Eagles and was their first attempt at any kind of public display—but it did not seem like it, for there were signs of masterly hands in every detail. It was a Grand Ball, with a delightful array of decorations, illuminations, specially designed and arranged by W. A. Shrewsbury, the local electrician, together with some superb management of the floor and general arrangements. The decorations, probably were the most artistic that have ever graced the bare walls of the Alhambra.

The electrical display was a credit to Mr. Shrewsbury as well as to the enterprise of the committee in charge. The music was everything that was adventured and more, for George Pacheco, the favorite cornetist, gave several well respected solos, to the accompaniment of the remainder of the orchestra, which were heartily received and cheered by the happy and gayly bedecked crowd.

Everybody was jovial and good-natured, everybody was sociable and dances were as easy for a stranger as a townsboy.

Such a thing in Redwood for the last several years is what can truthfully be termed a revelation. No cliches, no programs, no sham aristocracy, — each person being happier and more light-hearted at the termination than upon entrance. It was indeed a brilliant success, socially and financially, and will long be remembered by those present.

A ball advertised to be given by the Eagles on any future occasion will undoubtedly result in the filling of the gymnasium, for the Alhambra was quite too small to accommodate the crowd of their first attempt.

MENLO, January 1.—The Hibernia Bank has sold lot number thirty-two in the Polhemus tract to Albert Newcomb for $575.

William T. Casey shot forty-two ducks on the marsh last Sunday. This was the largest bag brought to town this season.

Miss Nellie Fraser, a prominent society lady of San Francisco, is here on a brief visit to her friend, Mrs. Harry B. Morey.

John M. Morley of South Dakota was here Monday seeking a five-acre tract in this vicinity. Two of his boys will attend Stanford next year.

George Casey was down from the city Friday to spend Christmas with his parents. He has confided to his friends that there will be "something doing" the last of the present month.

Charles Taylor who was compelled to retire from Stanford a year ago owing to ill health will resume his studies in that institution when it opens on January 10th.

Joseph Blanchard arrived home from the Walden Sanitarium last Wednesday restored to health, having entirely recovered from an operation performed some three weeks ago. This will be good news to his many friends, who were quite alarmed by his illness.

The trustees of the Menlo Park Sanitary district have concluded to have the sewer main laid on the side and not in the center of the roads as at first intended.

During the week several hundred pieces of sewer pipe were condemned by Trustee McLain. A big force of men will be put out the first of the year.

S. E. Slade and wife will entertain about twenty guests from San Francisco at dinner at their beautiful Fair Oaks home this evening. They will remain and will be shown the sights on to-morrow and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Slade are good entertainers and will royally receive the visitors.

George Clack who was compelled to give up his studies at Stanford last summer on account of his eyes will leave next week for the northern part of the State to engage in mining. Mining engineering was his major at Stanford and he intends to get some practical work in the mines.
He may re-enter Stanford later on.

The train service by the new time schedule is the best ever given by the Southern Pacific Company. In fact it would be difficult to improve on it. The train that leaves Third and Townsend streets every evening at 8 o'clock and arrives here a little after nine o'clock has been added to the service and will do much in bringing home-seekers to this locality.

Percy Newell of Palo Alto and Miss Lily Rogers of San Jose were married on Thursday of last week at the home of the bride. Mr. Newell has long been a resident of this vicinity, where he has many friends who will wish him much happiness. For the present the young people will make their home in San Jose.

Miss Cora Jane Flood on Christmas Eve gave her brother James a valuable present. On that day she presented him a deed to the Flood mansion recently recovered to her by the Regents of the State University. The only consideration mentioned in the deed is love and affection.

The instrument was filed for record last Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mr. Callaghan of San Francisco, who recently bought 15 acres of land in La Loma Park, near University Heights, was here Wednesday accompanied by an architect and well borer. He will erect a house commencing on the site of the old house and to be erected on the sloping hillside of the park. Work on the building will commence some time next month.

There has been a current rumor for some time to the effect that E. P. Scherwin, manager of the purchasing and supply department of the Southern Pacific Company is to be retired and that he will be succeeded by Richard Stevenson of Fair Oaks. For many years Mr. Stevenson has been the able assistant of Mr.
Scherwin, and is therefore fully qualified to fill the position with credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of the company.

The study of the Portuguese language is now a part of the curriculum of St.
Patrick's Seminary made so by the vast immigration of Portuguese to the Pacific Slope in the last few years. Young priests who are ordained at the seminary are in this diocese and it becomes necessary that they should be familiar with that language in view of the fact that nearly all that class of foreigners are Durable Whitewash.

A very durable whitewash that will stand nearly as well as paint is made as follows: Slake a bushel of lime with boiling water and thin sufficiently with cold water to make a good whitewash; dissolve a pint of white vitriol (sulphate of zinc) in boiling water, only enough to thoroughly dissolve it; also a quart of fine salt. The bushel of lime will weigh about seventy pounds, and by keeping the above proportions a greater or less amount can be made.

Books.
There are many books in the world and few years in which to read them: why should I spend even an hour in reading one that gives me less pleasure and does me less good when I can be reading one from which I get more pleasure and profit?—Anon.

THE LIVER MEDICINE
THE ORIGINAL
LIVER MEDICINE
A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, nausea and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. The liver Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It acts upon the torpid liver to throw out the gunk of liver and gall. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys refreshed by Theodor's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Theodor's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1904.
I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for three years and have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it.
It is the best medicine for me that I know of. It is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. O. Lewis

The Flax Plant.
Linen is obtained from the flax plant, a small, delicate annual with a tiny blue flower. The plant is pulled by hand in the summer, the seeds, known in commerce as linseed, being removed and the straw subjected to various processes to separate the fibrous part which constitutes the linen. First it is steeped in water and then passed on revolving wheels until all foreign matter is removed. It is then ready for manufacture.

Flax has been used from remote ages as a textile fabric, especially in Egypt.
Mummy cloths are often found to be of exceedingly fine texture. The chief linen producing countries of the present day are Ireland, France, Belgium and Germany. The flax fiber is round and irregular, is very durable and is capable of extensive bleaching. Plain linen has a simple weave, with the weft threads alternately interspersing the warp ones. When woven with a pattern it is usually called damask.

As a clothing material linen should not be worn next the skin because it is a very good conductor of heat.

Jute and hemp are from plants which are used in manufacturing only very rough materials. In form they resemble very coarse, inferior flax—American Queen.

Trained Nurses Who Loaf.
"When a doctor finds a nurse reading a book about her profession and not a novel while she watches at the bedside of a patient," said an untoward - yallan, "that is the nurse he likes to hire and to help. If the case turns out well the doctor sometimes makes her a present of a book with up to date ideas on her profession which she might not be able to buy. One-half the trained nurses of the city are dependent upon the recommendations of physicians.

Modern occultists maintain that the number four plays quite as important a part in mundane affairs as the number thirteen, and for the following reasons:

There are four cardinal points, four winds, four seasons, four rules for arithmetic, four conjugations and four quartiles of the moon. Moreover, the Olympiad lasted for four years, a pack of cards is composed of four equal parts and of four suits, an hour is divided into four quarters, and most pieces of furniture have four legs.

The occultists even point out that every human being has four cardinal teeth, that a fork has four prongs, that corpses are placed between four planks and prisoners between four walls, and that at a funeral the coffin is usually borne by four persons.

A Mere Man's Idea.
"First impressions are proverbially dangerous guides unless one happens to be of the sex which always has the gift of making its first impressions rhyme with the issue," says a recent writer. But a woman always awaits the issue before she condones her real first impressions to the outside world.
She may "say things" which the male outsider may mistake for her first impressions, but they are not her real first impressions. They come only after the event. This, however, is a profitless digression.

One of the chief joys in life is to know men by whom you can swear, to know a man here and there over the world of whom you can say: "Where ever he is tonight, there he is helpful, truthful, sincere, wise, intelligent—an educated gentleman; educated in every faculty of his being, in those things which go to make the body a thing of delight and beauty; educated in conscience, so that even as the eye seeks the light his conscience seeks the right; educated fully and completely."

The Siamese is said to be the most delicate and expensive of all cats. It is called the royal cat because, according to Science Siftings, it has long been bred in the family of the king of Siam.
It is a short-haired cat, which looks curiously like a dog. Its coat is pug dog color and very short, firm and silky —more like a dog's than a cat's. It has black paws and nose and a twist in its tail.

Woman's Duties.
A woman who keeps her house in order and has the care of a family, has just as much responsibility as the man who provides the means to carry on the housekeeping. She is the deserving of the more credit since the demands on her strength are greater. The everlasting sameness about her duties, and the confession necessary to carry them out is very trying to the nervous system, this produces a strain on the mind that makes her irritable, cross, and dissatisfied, which is just as much a disease as rheumatism or catarrh. If the nerves can be built up and made strong by medicine of some kind, this feeling is changed to one of cheerfulness and pleasure in her duties.
This medicine that makes strong steady nerves, and prevents disease by building up rich blood, feeding the nerves, and making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 pounds a week. This medicine is sold by druggists for 75 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $2.00, sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write up about your case.

An Offensive Cravat.
A good story of Whistler and his peculiarities is told in the Free Lance.
A gentleman went to Whistler with a letter of introduction and sent up his card with the letter. The servant presented brought down the card with a note in pencil on it—"Who is the great painter?" The visitor promptly wrote "Whistler" and was immediately shown upstairs. An amusing scene followed, arising out of the fact that the visitor was wearing a red necktie.
Whistler declared it interfered with the color scheme of his room and "put him off" a picture he was painting in quite a different "key." Finally he obliged him to take off the offending cravat because he would condescend to exchange another word with him.

Lucky Man.
In crossing the ocean a father and son both became very seasick. The father recovered quickly, but the son was so exhausted by the attack that he sank into a state of apathy, from which it seemed impossible to arouse him.
The steamer physician, thinking he would try a sudden shock, said: "I have had news for you. Your father is dead!"
The son, raising his expressionless eyes to the doctor, replied, "Lucky man!"

Getting Up Early.
"I can't get up early," said a wealthy gentleman to his doctor.
"Oh, yes, you can," was the reply, "if you will only follow my advice. What is your usual hour of rising?"
"Nine o'clock."
"Well, get up half an hour later every day, and in the course of a month you will find yourself up at 4 in the morning!"

Discontent With Work.
That there is much discontent with work among the so called middle classes in America is due in large part to the pampering of children, to the supplying of their natural and artificial wants and to the sentimental idea that "their day of toil will come soon enough." In general, work is not a curse, but a blessing, a positive means of grace. One can hardly begin too early to impress upon children lessons of self help by tasks appropriate to their age and forces and to beget in them scorn of idleness and of dependence on others. To do this is to make them happy through the self respect that comes with the realization of power and thus to approximate Tennyson's goal of man, "Self reverence, self knowledge, self control."—Century.
